FORECASTS

TODAY

MAX 18 PRESSURE 1001

Fairly cloudy at first today with patches of misty rain and drizzle. That will generally clear as the morning goes on with sunshine breaking through the cloud. There should be good sunny spells this afternoon but a few showers also. Some of the showers may be intense, but generally they will be well scattered. Highest temperatures of 17 to 20C. The day will be breezy with fresh northwest winds, but the breeze will die down later.

TOMORROW

MIN 11 MAX 16 PRESSURE 1007

It will be cloudier tomorrow with outbreaks of showery rain. There may be a few heavy showers but overall rainfall will not be large. Highest temperatures of 16 to 19C in a moderate westerly breeze.

TONIGHT

MIN 12 PRESSURE 1005

Most of the showers will die away this evening and then it should be mainly dry for the night. Lowest temperatures 10 to 13C.

OUTLOOK

Any showers will have cleared and generally Wednesday night will be dry. Thursday and Friday will be two fairly bright days with spells of sunshine. There will still be isolated showers around on Thursday, but Friday should be a dry day. Temperatures though will only reach highs of around 18 or 19C. Saturday will start off dry but then it will begin to cloud over and it will rain later in the day and for a time on Saturday evening and early night. Sunday will be a mild cloudy day which should stay fairly dry for most of the time. While there will be rain or showers during the rest of the week amounts of rain wont be as excessive as recently.
